Statement on observing the rules of corporate governance - Correction

Due to release of erroneous data – an obsolete reference to CEZ 2005 Annual Report and Sarbanes-Oxley Act –“ Statement on observing the rules of corporate governance” is to be corrected as follows:

Erroneous data correction – Updating references to CEZ 2006 Annual Report – Article “Company Statement” – Clause 27, 39, and 48.

Erroneous data correction – Updating erroneous data – Article of “Company Statement” – Clause 44: ČEZ fully complies with auditing standards and respective articles of Sarbanes-Oxley Act. The company would never use statutory auditor of annual statements to perform any special purpose audit.

Correct wording of Company Statement: CEZ acts in accord with the legislation of the Czech Republic. The company never used a statutory auditor of annual statements to perform any special purpose audit.

Statement on observing the rules of corporate governance

General Rules

I. Objective of the Company

The main objective of a company's authorities is to further the company's interests, i.e. to increase the value of the assets entrusted to them by the shareholders, taking into consideration the rights and interests of entities other than the shareholders that are involved in the functioning of the company, especially the company's creditors and employees.

II. Majority Rule and Protection of the Minority

A joint-stock company is a capital venture, therefore it must respect the principle of capital majority rule and the primacy of majority over minority. A shareholder who contributes more capital also bears a greater economic risk. It is, therefore, justified that his interests be considered in proportion to the capital he contributes. The minority must have a guarantee that their rights will be properly protected within the limits set by the law and commercial integrity. When exercising his rights, a majority shareholder should take into account the interests of the minority.

III. Honest Intentions and No-Abuse of Rights

The exercising of rights and reliance on legal institutions should be based on honest intentions (good faith) and cannot go beyond the purpose and economic reasons for which these institutions are established. No actions should be taken which, by exceeding the limits set, constitute an abuse of the law. The minority should be protected against any abuse of ownership rights by the majority and the interests of the majority should be protected against any abuse by the minority of its rights, thus ensuring the best possible protection of the equitable interests of the shareholders and other market participants.

IV. Court Control

The company's authorities and persons chairing the general meeting cannot decide on issues which should be resolved by a court judgment. This does not apply to activities which the company's authorities and persons chairing general meetings are authorised or obliged to undertake by force of law.

V. Independent Opinions Ordered by the Company

When choosing an entity to provide expert services, particularly an auditor, financial and tax advisors or legal advisors, the company should examine whether there are any circumstances that would limit the entity's independence when performing the tasks entrusted.

Best Practices of General Meetings
1	A general meeting should take place in a location and at a time that allows the participation of as many shareholders as possible.	Yes	In compliance with Sect. 184 (6) of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code
2	A request made by parties entitled to do so for a general meeting to be convened and for certain issues to be put on its agenda should be justified. Draft resolutions proposed for adoption by the general meeting and other key documents should be presented to the shareholders together with justification and a supervisory board opinion before the general meeting to allow them time to review and evaluate the same.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 14 (5)
3	A general meeting convened on the shareholders' request should be held on the date given in the request and, if this date cannot be kept, on the nearest date that would allow the general meeting to settle the issues on its agenda.	Yes (in principle)	In compliance with Sect. 181 (1,2) of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code and the Company Statutes Art. 9 (7) and 14 (4)
4	A general meeting whose agenda includes certain issues at the request of authorized entities or which has been convened on such a request can only be cancelled with the consent of the requesting parties. In all other instances, a general meeting can be cancelled if its holding is hindered (force majeure) or is obviously groundless. A meeting is called off in the same way as it	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 14 (6)

	is convened, limiting negative consequences for the company and its shareholders as far as possible and no later than three weeks before the original meeting date. A change in the date of a general meeting is made in the same way as a cancellation, even if the proposed agenda does not change.
5	Before a shareholder's representative can participate in a general meeting, his right to act on the shareholder's behalf should be duly documented. It should be presumed that a written document confirming the right to represent a shareholder at a general meeting conforms with the law and does not require any additional confirmations or acknowledgement unless the company's management board or the chairman of the general meeting has doubts about its authenticity or validity prima facie (when drawing up the list of attendance).	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 18 (4,5,6)
6	The general meeting should have regular by-laws setting out in detail the principles on which meetings are conducted and resolutions adopted. The by-laws should, in particular, contain provisions on elections, including elections to the supervisory board by voting in separate groups. The by-laws should not be subject to frequent change; it is advisable for any changes to enter into force as of the following general meeting.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 18
7	The person opening the general meeting should immediately organise the election of the meeting chairman and should refrain from making any substantial or formal decisions.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 17 (1)
8	The chairman of the general meeting ensures that the meeting is run efficiently and that the rights and interests of all the shareholders are observed. The chairman should, in particular, counteract any abuse of rights by meeting participants and should guarantee that the rights of minority shareholders are respected. The chairman should not, without good reason, resign from his function or delay signing the meeting minutes.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 17 (3)

9	A general meeting should be attended by the members of both the supervisory board and the management board. The auditor should also be present at an annual general meeting and an extraordinary general meeting if the company's financial matters are to be discussed. The absence of a supervisory or management board member from the general meeting requires an explanation, which should be given at the meeting.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 16 (1)
10	Supervisory and management board members and the company's auditor should, within their powers and to the extent needed to settle issues discussed at the general meeting, provide meeting participants with explanations and information about the company.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 16 (1)
11	All answers provided by the management board to questions posed by the general meeting should take into account the fact that a public company carries out its reporting obligations in the way stipulated in the Law on the Public Trading in Securities; certain information cannot be provided in any other way.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 18 (7,8)
12	Short breaks in the session which do not constitute an adjournment and are ordered by the chairman in justified cases cannot be aimed at hindering the exercising by the shareholders of their rights.	Yes	It's upon the Chairman of the General Meeting
13	Voting on administrative issues may only concern issues related to the running of the meeting. Resolutions which may have an impact on the exercising by the shareholders of their rights cannot be voted on in this way.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 17 (1)
14	A resolution not to consider an issue on the agenda may be adopted only if it is supported by sound reasons. Any motion in this respect should be accompanied by a detailed justification. A decision to remove an item from the agenda or not to consider an issue put on the agenda at a shareholder's request requires a general meeting resolution, once all the shareholders present who put the issue on the agenda have given their consent, supported by 75% of the votes present at the meeting.	Yes	In compliance with Sect. 185 (4) of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code
15	Any party objecting to a resolution must be given the opportunity to put forward concise reasons for its objections.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 18 (7,8,9)

16	As the Code of Commercial Companies does not provide for court control in the event of a resolution not being adopted by the general meeting, the management board or the meeting chairman should form resolutions in such a way that anyone who does not agree with the merits of a decision being the subject of the resolution has the possibility of challenging the same, provided that he is entitled to do so.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 18 (10)
17	Written statements made by a participant at a general meeting are recorded in the minutes at the participant's request.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 17 (15)
Best Practices of Supervisory Boards
18	The supervisory board submits a concise evaluation of the company's standing to the general meeting every year. Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 26 (3)
24	Information on a supervisory board member's personal, actual and organizational connections with a given shareholder, particularly with the majority shareholder, should be made publicly available. The company should have a procedure in place for obtaining such information from supervisory board members and for making it publicly available.	Yes	Please see www.cez.cz
25	Supervisory board meetings should be accessible and open to management board members, save for issues which directly concern the management board or its members, especially the removal, liability and remuneration (of management board members).	Yes	Supervisory Board meetings are accessible and open to the Management Board Chairman.
26	A supervisory board member should make it possible for the management board to present publicly and in an appropriate manner information on the transfer or acquisition of shares in the company or in its dominant company or subsidiary and of transactions with such companies, provided that such information is relevant to his financial standing.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 24 (6,7)
27	Supervisory board members' remuneration should be set on the basis of a set of transparent procedures and rules. The remuneration should be fair but should not constitute a significant cost item in the company's business or have a material impact on its financial results. It should also be in reasonable relation to the remuneration of members of the management board. The total amount of all supervisory board members' remuneration, as well as the remuneration of individual members, with a breakdown of its various elements should be disclosed in the annual report together with information on the procedures and rules applied to determine it.	Yes (partially)	Total amount with a breakdown of its various elements together with remuneration principles is disclosed in the Annual Report. Please see page 24 and 25 of the Annual Report 2006. The committee's tasks should be specified in the board by-laws. The committees should present reports on their activities to the supervisory board every year. The company should then make these reports available to its shareholders.	Yes	Reports form a part of the Supervisory Board Annual Report submitted to the Annual General Meeting
29	The agenda of a supervisory board meeting should not be amended or supplemented during the meeting to which it relates. This requirement does not apply if all the supervisory board members are present and agree to the amendment or supplementation, and if certain actions have to be taken by the supervisory board to protect the company against damage and in the case of a resolution assessing whether there is a conflict of interests between a supervisory board member and the company.	Yes	Regulated by Art. 3 of the Supervisory Board by-laws
30	A supervisory board member delegated by a group of shareholders to permanently exercise supervision should submit detailed reports on the performance of his task to the supervisory board.	No	It is not required under Czech Law
31	A supervisory board member should not resign from his function during his term of office if this would make it impossible for the board to function, particularly if it could hinder the timely adoption of an important resolution.	No	It is not required under Czech Law
Best Practices of Management Boards
32	With the company's interests in mind, the management board sets out the strategy and the main objects of the company's operations and submits them to the supervisory board. The management board is responsible for implementation and performance. The management	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 13 (1s)

	board sees that the company's management system is transparent and effective and that its business is conducted in accordance with legal regulations and best practice.
33	When making decisions on corporate issues, management board members should act within the limits of justified business risk, i.e. after considering all information, analyses and opinions, which, in the reasonable opinion of the management board, should be taken into account in a given case in view of the company's interest. When determining the company's interests, the long-term interests of the company's shareholders, creditors and employees should be kept in mind, as well as those of other entities and persons cooperating with the company, also the interests of the local community.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 21 (1)
34	In transactions with shareholders and other persons whose interests affect those of the company, the management board should act with the utmost care to ensure that the transactions are carried out at arm's length.	Yes	In compliance with Sect. 196a of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code and the Company Statutes Art. 21 (1,4)
35	A management board member should always be loyal to the company and avoid actions which could lead to the advancement of his own material interests only. If a management board member receives information about the opportunity to make an investment or another advantageous transaction relating to the company's objects, he should put this information immediately before the management board to be reviewed in terms of the company taking advantage of it. Such information may only be used by a management board member or passed on to a third party with the consent of the management board and only if it does not infringe on the company's interests.	Yes	In compliance with Sect. 196 and 196a of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code and the Company Statutes Art. 21 (1,4)

40	The management board should lay down in the by-laws principles and procedures for operating and allocating powers. These principles should be clear and generally available.	Yes	Please see the Company Statutes Art. 19, 20, 21 and 22

Best Practices in Relations with Third Parties and Third Party Institutions

41	When selecting an auditor, the company should ensure that he will perform the tasks entrusted to him impartially.	Yes	This is basic principle used by ČEZ in external auditor selection process.
42	In order to ensure an impartial opinion, the company should change its auditor once every five years at the least. The change of auditor should also be understood as a change in the individual carrying out the audit. Additionally, over a long period of time the company should not use the services of the same auditing entity.	Yes	The company acts in accordance with the legislation of the European Union and the markets where its securities are traded. The company changes an audit partner at least once in seven years. The changes in audit team are even more frequent.
43	The auditor should be selected by the supervisory board on the recommendation of the audit committee, or by the general meeting on the recommendation of the supervisory board containing the audit committee recommendation. If an auditor other than the one recommended by the audit committee is chosen by either the board or the general meeting, detailed reasons should be given. Information on the selection of an auditing entity together with the relevant justification should be disclosed in the annual report.	Yes	The auditor is selected by the supervisory board on recommendation of the audit committee of the company.
44	The current auditor or the auditor auditing the annual accounts of the company or its subsidiaries in the period under examination cannot act as a special purpose auditor for the same company.	Yes	ČEZ acts in accord with the legislation of the Czech Republic. The company never used a statutory auditor of annual statements to perform any special purpose audit.
45	A company should acquire its own shares in such a way that no group of shareholders is privileged.	Yes	In compliance with Sect. 155 (7) of Act No. 513/1991 Col. the Commercial Code.
46	The company's statutes, its basic internal regulations, information and documents related to general meetings, and its financial statements should be made available in the company's registered office and on its website.	Yes	Please see www.cez.cz
47	A company should have appropriate media relations

	procedures and regulations and an information policy ensuring coherent and reliable information about the company. The company should, in compliance with legal regulations and to safeguard its interests, make information on its current operations and business standing available to media representatives and allow them to attend general meetings.	Yes (partially)	The Company has dedicated Public Relations and Investor Relations units. The public is informed about events related to CEZ as they happen. Quarterly results are announced at a press conference held in Prague in Czech and followed by a conference call in English; both happen at a date announced in advance. Participation at general meetings is allowed as per Company Statutes Art. 16; guests may participate subject to approval of the Board of Directors. Media representatives get all relevant information about the meeting immediately after its end via detailed press release.
48	In its annual report, a company should include a statement to the effect that corporate governance standards are applied. Any departure from these standards should also be publicly explained.	Yes	Please see page 91 of 2006 Annual Report.
