

Internal Information

Response to Reports on the Financial Performance of CEZ Group

Energy company ČEZ has not officially presented its half-yearly financial performance data anywhere. Since Reuters has published some of our performance data this afternoon without authorization, ČEZ is publishing that portion of information on its website and using other standard information channels to provide the market with access to comprehensive official information. ČEZ continues to investigate how this situation has arisen.